

Andi Stout, President

I am excited to be starting my year as your congregational President. I would like to thank Deb Coon for her two years of inspiring leadership and am grateful that she will remain on the Board as immediate past president!

As we start a new fiscal year, we are looking forward to exciting times. We are in the midst of the process to annex to the city of Escondido, we have kicked off our capital campaign for Phase 1 of our campus master plan, and we are currently searching for a half-time Director of Congregational Life. You will be hearing more about all of these over the next few months.

At our annual Board retreat on June 21, we welcomed new Board members Eli Jones (trustee), Debi Streett-Idell (secretary), and Susan Spoto (vice president). The current officers and Reverend Sharon spent the first hour of the retreat familiarizing the new Board members with our policy book and the role of the Board under policy governance. The new members came well-prepared, having read a couple of book chapters about policy governance and parts of our policy manual, and we had a lively discussion. We were then joined by trustees Ann Cunningham, Jerry Carter, and James Smullen. After a fun ice-breaker (during which we learned some very interesting facts about each other!), Reverend Sharon led a discussion about characteristics of a healthy, functioning Board. Then the Board started planning this new year. We will be continuing visioning conversations, a practice we started two years ago. Some of the topics we plan to discuss are: develop a board mission statement, how do we encourage the shift to being a mission-oriented congregation, how to become a beacon rather than a bunker, how to do a better job of communicating/informing, how do we better serve young families, and how do we better serve young adults. We also decided on the four ministries with whom

Sunday Services

Service at 9:00 and 11:00

Chalice Unitarian Universalist Congregation

July 6 – Eileen Maurer, pulpit guest

"The Elephant in the Room"

Today we explore how Jain religious principles set forth over 600 years before the birth of Jesus can help us approach conflict in our modern lives in a more productive way.

Eileen Maurer has been an active member of Palomar Unitarian Universalist Fellowship for the past 15 years and has preached over 40 sermons there and in other southern California UU churches.

July 13 – Gary Cagle

"Sacred Art"

Art can be a spiritual impulse as well as a creative impulse. For many people, the sacred is that which is associated with a separate divine sphere. For the artist, the sacred means to be human not just in the material or here and now, but in a more transcendental sense. When we make culture, we are making meaning. We often make sense of the world when we make something of the world.

July 20 – Rev. Sharon Wylie

"Portable Magic" Multigenerational Service

Today we celebrate the pleasure of reading! Congregants will share thoughts on the life-changing experience of reading. Please bring a favorite book you are willing to give away, write a note on the inside front cover describing why you love the book, and sign your name. Children are encouraged to bring a book as well.

July 27 – Rev. Sharon Wylie

"Question Box Sunday"

Do you have something you've always wanted to ask a minister, the minister, YOUR minister? Today's the day to bring your question! Questions will be collected during the service and answered by Rev. Sharon in lieu of a sermon. Children's questions will be answered during the Time for All Ages, so encourage your little ones to bring questions as well.

PARKING NOTICE - Please do not park on Miller Avenue. We have an agreement with the community because the street is too narrow. If there is no room in the lower parking lot, please use the upper lot or you may park on Hamilton. Thank you for your cooperation.

Minister's Message

Beloved community,

It is an exciting time for Chalice! We have just launched our capital campaign to raise money for Phase 1 of our construction project, and we are in the process of hiring a new half-time staff position, the Director of Congregational Life.

This is also a time of great transition and change at Chalice. AGAIN! As one of our Board members commented at the recent Board retreat, "It seems like we've been in transition for years. Will we ever have a rest?"

It so happens that I am writing this column at 9:30 p.m. at night, two days past the deadline for the newsletter. My two-week vacation starts in three days. I'm tired. My first two years of ministry have been overwhelmingly joyful and exhilarating, and this past year has included moments so difficult I hope to never face anything like them again. Like many of you, I too yearn for rest.

But there is an adage that churches are like sharks: if we aren't moving forward, then we are dying. (In fact, it is not true that all sharks must keep moving in order to breathe, which makes the saying all the richer, in my mind.) Though we might yearn for quiet times, it doesn't take long for "quiet" to shift from "contentment" to "stagnation."

As I begin my third year of ministry at Chalice, we are entering what could very well be a time of relative rest for us. The construction project won't be starting any time soon. We are enjoying the blessings of the added meeting space the cottage provides. And the Director of Congregational Life's work with us will hopefully provide just the right amount of change and newness to keep us moving forward, engaged and enlivened.

At the end of my first two years with you, I can say with full conviction:

*Chalice, I love you.
I love this work.
I love Unitarian Universalism.
I love being your minister.*

I'll rest up on my vacation, and you rest up while I'm gone. I'll be back with you mid-July, and we'll get back to work together.

Bright blessings, Sharon

Rev. Sharon Wylie

Religious Education

Chalice Summer RE Program

This year we are excited to explore the Chalice interconnected web and its connection to the wider world. We are planning lessons and activities to involve the Chalice Children in the stewardship of Chalice itself and exploring the ways that we can take stewardship of the earth. Activities will include planting at the cottage, making something for the Bread Communion Service, creating a flag for the cottage, and we will keep the rest as a surprise. While we have a good response to our call for volunteers, we are still in need of more. You don't have to necessarily lead a class, we need people to assist as well. We are putting together lesson plans for each Sunday so that you will have support but we are leaving room for your unique perspective and insights.

In keeping with the policies that Chalice has adopted around children's safety, volunteers will have to go through a background check. Contact Kathleen Swift at (not for public)

If you have questions or would like to volunteer, please contact our Summer Program co-chairs: Becki Collins (not for public) or Jeff Heys (not for public).

Another year celebrated at Chalice!

Students in the Chalice Elementary Classes and the Coming of Age Class presented meaningful and fun services on June 22 with guidance and love from DRE Jackie Austin-Singer and Rev. Sharon Wylie. The students understood the importance of their task, and they were professional, prepared, and enthusiastic. Enjoy the summer program!

The first meeting will be for getting to know each other, and exploring the possibilities for this class.

President Andi Stout's article from pg 1 continued

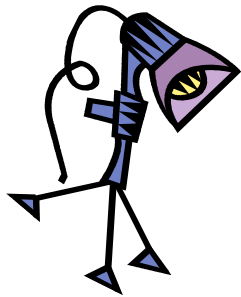

we will hold conversations throughout the year. This will be our second year of inviting spokespeople from various ministries to present to the Board. Our experience last year found these conversations to be very informative.

Our last big task was to finish discussing, revising, and prioritizing the outcomes for the goals of our congregation. These goals are:

- Maintain a recognized presence in the community reflecting our Unitarian Universalist principles, through communication and action.
- Nurture congregants' spirits with caring community, diverse programming, and the challenge to make real and live our values in the world.
- Effectively incorporate newcomers into congregational life through a comprehensive, documented, and well-known process.
- Enhance the child-based religious education program and expand into a lifespan education program.
- Provide consistently excellent inspirational, dynamic, and challenging Sunday worship services.
- Navigate the transition from a pastoral to a program church.
- Ensure Chalice has adequate facilities and equipment.

Your Board is energized and looking forward to the year ahead!

Spotlight on Lara Brown

Brief Biography

I grew up in Maryland, in the United Methodist tradition. We were regular churchgoers, and, unlike my brothers, I actually liked going to church, mostly because of the music. I loved singing the hymns, and joined the children's choir, youth choir, and adult choir as soon as I could. We did a modified version of Godspell, which was a lot of fun. Then I went to college, joined the choir, of course, and took a History of Christianity class. It was a fascinating class, but that was the beginning of the end of my Christian faith, the end of regular church attendance, and, after college, the end of choral singing for a long time.

After I moved to San Diego, a friend of a friend introduced me to the RB Chorale and the USD Community choir. It was so nice to be singing again! But a few years later I fell in love and instantly had three children in my life, soon to be followed by Rebecca and Leah. So I took another hiatus from singing until a personal crisis led me to Chalice. Chalice had a vibrant choir at the time, and I was content to sit and listen from the congregation. But eventually I joined the choir to sing in a music service and just kept coming back. And you know what happens when you join the choir -- it isn't long before you are up on the stage singing and dancing in Cabaret, an incredibly fun, terrifying, yet exhilarating experience.

What does music mean in your life?

Music is one way that I communicate with my kids. In addition to singing them lullabies (though Rebecca will tell you she has outgrown that), I take them to see as many musicals as I can, and I listen with them to what they like on the radio. We often sing together in the car, and it is a wonderful feeling.

Fun Fact

It has been my secret fantasy for a while now to perform Camelot with the gender roles reversed. I would like to be King Arthur, as I know all those songs by heart. Any takers on Queen Guinevere?

Women's Book Discussion

On July 15th the Chalice Women's Book Club will be discussing "The Bean Tree" by Barbara Kingsolver. Our facilitator will be Jessica Schulz. We meet the third Tuesday of every month at 7:15 PM in the Common Room. ### Readers' Theater Group

Our July meeting will be held on Monday, July 28 at 7 p.m. in the common room. We will be reading aloud a comedy, The Hot L Baltimore by Lanford Wilson. The plot: "The Hotel Baltimore used to be the swankiest place in town - now it has a date with the wrecking ball. Eviction notices just went out to its residents, who live on the fringes of society and call the seedy hotel home. This acclaimed play is filled with everyday humanity - unexpectedly intimate and moving. The Hot L Baltimore reveals the private lives of an unconventional community about to be turned inside out."

Newcomers and listeners are always welcome at our gatherings. Please contact Deb Coon (not for public). In advance, so that we'll know to expect you.

Chalice Readers

On July 25th at 7:00 PM at Chalice we will discuss The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks by Rebecca Skloot. Her name was Henrietta Lacks, but scientists know her as HeLa. She was a poor black tobacco farmer whose cells—taken without her knowledge in 1951—became one of the most important tools in medicine, vital for developing the polio vaccine, cloning, gene mapping, and more. Henrietta's cells have been bought and sold by the billions, yet she remains virtually unknown, and her family can't afford health insurance. This phenomenal New York Times bestseller tells a riveting story of the collision between ethics, race, and medicine; of scientific discovery and faith healing.

Social Justice ~ by Peg Briggerman

Social Justice Committee

The Social Justice Committee (SJC) began June with our first 'Coffee House Justice Meet'. We gathered at the 'Kettle Leaf and Cup' on Grand Avenue. It was a Friday night, so we joined a stream of 50's and 60's cars driving slowly into Escondido and up Center City Parkway. The parade was a fitting kickoff to our new meeting format. The SJC now has 13 members; 10 circled our table. The Kettle staff was glad to have us, and invited us back for monthly gatherings. We will hold our July meeting there, but on a different day of the week during the summer, to avoid the interesting, but distracting traffic. It's a comfy setting with drinks/snacks handy, and good work gets done. Notification will go out when the date is set. Please join us.

All but two of our circle live and are active in charity work and politics in the Escondido community. We learned that there is a great deal going on in Escondido that begs our attention, and possible action or help.

There were many good suggestions offered from the group, lists were made for follow-up:

- ◇ On First Sundays, when special donations are made to our Charity Partners, we could improve donation bin appearance and collection process, always have eNUUS articles in advance, and put baskets out the week before, for advance warning.
- ◇ Deepen our work with Interfaith Community Services, by increasing our volunteer work there, so that more people could get involved.
- ◇ Create more projects to do jointly with the youth group.

There was a discussion about the new reading group which has focused on books around the current state of US prisons and possible reform activities. Their current book is 'The Uncommon Community'. A question was raised about finding volunteer opportunities, perhaps through the UUA, to help with Prison Reform. Check the calendar for dates and times, if you are interested in joining this group.

Other Social Justice Work

Mary Pomerene has been working with the Justice Group at Solana Beach.

Katia (at UURISE) has talked to me about Chalice being more involved with their activities. They do much more for the community than Immigration work, and need volunteers.

Susan Sklar and Peg Briggerman will meet with the Interfaith Volunteer Coordinator to find ways which will broaden Chalice's involvement and increase the number of Chalice members who volunteer.

Plans to create a very active and rewarding Justice Year for Chalice are being discussed. In addition to all the above activities, SJ hopes to bring the UUJM (Justice Ministry) to Chalice to lead their Empowerment Program. It is a three-month long study program including three Sunday services with workshops in between. The purpose is to assist Congregations like ours which are transitioning to a larger size, and also to increase the scope and depth of our justice work.

Upcoming Events:

- Normally, in July the North County LGBT Coalition hosts the Pride at the Beach Event. This year, it will be held on Oct. 11, and is re-invented to encompass not only the Oceanside Beach, but the downtown streets as well. If there are vendor booths for the community, we will be there.

-Also in July, we join the other UU congregations in our cluster and march 100 strong in the Hillcrest Pride parade. This year it will be July 19. Mark your calendars! It's enormously fun and sends an important message to all. Most important, though, we all pass out flyers and bookmarks about being a UU and contact
