

Susan Spoto President

July 1st marks the start of my term as President of the Chalice Board of Trustees. For those of you who do not know me, I am a life-long Unitarian Universalist and have witnessed the healing power of our Chalice UU as well as other UUA communities. I look forward to serving Chalice during this year, helping it to grow and fulfill its Mission and Purpose:

"This congregation unites to foster spiritual and personal growth and to promote principles of community, dignity, and the right of individual conviction and truth regardless of source. We work for social justice in our locale and in the larger world and in so doing create a better life in the here and now. We dedicate ourselves to the democratic process in human relationships and endeavor to respect the interdependent web of existence of which we are a part. This is reflected in the Congregation Mission Statement: Open Hearts, open minds, open doors, nurturing spirits and seeking justice within the wider world."

The tragic Charleston, South Carolina, church shootings have affected the entire country. As Unitarian Universalists, we support and honor those victims, their families, and their congregation. We will work towards a more compassionate society, utilizing our First Principle "the inherent worth and dignity of every person". It is my personal hope that we witness the removal of the Confederate flag from the South Carolina State House, where it has flown since 1961, as a first step towards justice. The Mother Emanuel AME Church victims were symbolized with nine beautiful white ribbons; these ribbons were then majestically tied to the wrought-iron fence of their historic church. May our Chalice flame shine brightly in honor of these victims, as we work to further justice for all.

July 5

Elizabeth Bukey

"Let America Be America Again"

Inspired by the Langston Hughes poem of the same title, Elizabeth explores the tension between the ideal of "America," and the reality of experience in this country.

July 12

Elizabeth Bukey

"Willing To Be Changed By What We've Started"

We want to grow: personally, spiritually, and as a congregation. But are we willing to be changed by that growth? We explore the gifts and challenges of growing and changing.

July 19

Rev. Sharon Wylie

"Book Communion"

Multigenerational Service

Reading changes lives. Today we celebrate the pleasure and importance of reading! Congregants will share thoughts on the life-changing experience of reading. We'll remember some of our favorite titles and have opportunities to make recommendations to others.

July 26

Rev. Sharon Wylie

"Question Box Sunday"

Do you have something you've always wanted to ask a minister, the minister, YOUR minister? Today's the day to bring your question! Questions will be collected during the service and answered by Rev. Sharon in lieu of a sermon. Children's questions will be answered during the Time for All Ages, so encourage your little ones to bring questions as well.

Religious education for ages 4 and older is provided during the 9 am service.
Childcare for all ages is available at both the 9 am and 11 am services.
Summer schedule will begin during July

Board of Trustees Meeting Highlights

June 2015 Board of Trustees Highlights

- Founding member John Gaunt died on May 10; his memorial service was June 6.
- We have had two members resign in the last month: Judy Brown and Andrea Seavey. As is our practice when resignation reasons are unknown, we have sent a follow up letter inviting feedback.
- Sharon hired a new Office Administrator, Brittany Keegan. The Board welcomed Brittany.
- Vito Rosselli has resigned from his position as A/V Technician to take a job in Las Vegas. Stuart Holmes will fill the position through the summer, after which we'll undertake a hiring process.
- Tim McKnight will be on vacation June 15-28.
- Elizabeth Bukey will be on study leave June 16-21.
- Sharon will be on vacation June 29-July 13.
- Our by-laws require congregants requesting a pledge waiver to make that request of the minister. Rev. Sharon will clarify in our written pledge materials that she would like that request to come in a face-to-face meeting with her.
- The Ministerial Support Team is changing shape. Calliste Hawke, Jim Lindstrom, and John Schulz have all completed their terms. In anticipation that Sharon will be welcomed into final fellowship this fall, MST will now have three members: Mary Best and Lloyd Kelly will continue for another year, and Karen McComb will join the team. MST will no longer meet monthly, but will convene on an as-needed basis.
- Effective July 1, Elizabeth's weekly hours will increase from 20 to 25.
- Our RE Committee has elected to change their name to Family Ministries Team and will support the broader work of the DFM's portfolio.
- Our summer RE program will begin July 5, and the focus will be science-oriented.
- Pathways Team reported that the May 31 Newcomers' Orientation had six newcomers in attendance.
- Pathways Team is purchasing some directional signage to help first-time visitors find their way around campus.
- Twenty-five people attended the Alexander Technique workshop on May 31.
- Our two new social justice task forces—Economic Justice and Immigrant Justice—have begun meeting. The Social Justice Policy task force has formed and will begin meeting.
- The Building Use Policy was approved by consensus with minor changes.
- The Employee Grievance Policy was approved by consensus with minor changes.
- The Service Animal Policy was approved by consensus.
- Andi extended thanks to Deb, Manuel, and James for their service to the Board.

PrevUUs is published monthly by the Chalice Unitarian Universalist Congregation. Each month, it is distributed electronically to members, and posted on the Members Only section of the website. Coordinating Team (CT) Report

June Coordinating Team Highlights

The Coordinating Team coordinates, integrates, and advocates the methods for accomplishing the Congregation's goals in accordance with the Board's Policies. Coordinating Team: Delynn Kelly, Callie Leef, Brittany Keegan, and Rev. Sharon Wylie.

- We've drafted a volunteer description for a Council of Chairs Assistant and will look to fill the position.
- Bob Nelson met with CT on June 5 to discuss new stairs and handrail to the upper parking lot. CT authorized him to proceed.
- We received a report from the Shared Ministry Task Force (SMTF). Among many helpful recommendations is the idea to have a Shared Ministry Team for further study and work. CT is excited by this idea, and Sharon will meet with SMTF members next month to discuss how to go forward.
- The Board expressed concern that our tall shelves in the Fellowship Building may not be earthquake secure. Correcting this is in progress.
- Pursuant to the Board's new policy, CT is pursuing having no smoking signs installed around campus.

Minister's Message

Beloved community,

In her book Woman on the Edge of Time, Marge Piercy writes of a utopian society, and one of the practices there was for the elderly to spend the day with the children. One person explains,

We believe old people and children are kin. There's more space at both ends of life. That closeness to birth and to death makes a common concern with big questions and basic patterns. We think old people, because of their distance from the problems of their own growing up, hold more patience and can be quieter to hear what children want. Not everyone who teaches the young is old — we all teach. The kids work with us. We try to share what we have learned and what we don't know...

I have always loved that vision of multigenerational community as part of a utopian future.

One of the joys for me of our community, and the particular joy of our monthly multigenerational service, is the joy of knowing this is one of the few places in our culture where different age groups come together. Our culture is highly segregated by age, and church is one of the few places where young and old and everyone in between come together.

There is comfort in being with our peer groups, of course. We like to be with people our own age, people who have lived through the same events we have, people who have watched the same TV shows and movies, who grew up listening to the same music. There is good support to be found when we are with people who are like us.

But we also—no matter our age—we also benefit from being with people older than we are and being with people who are younger than we are. We look to our elders for wisdom and guidance, knowing that we can learn from their experiences. Someone recently told me that knowing elders here at Chalice has given her a vision of growing older that is dynamic and exciting.

And we also benefit from being with people younger than us, for whom we can be guides, and people whose outlook on the world is fresh and new, informed by new technologies and experiences. It is younger generations that often lead needed change in the world, and as we get older, we often need to be reminded that change is possible and worth fighting for.

In multigenerational community, each of us has much to TEACH other generations and each of us has much to LEARN from other generations. The vibrancy of our multigenerational community depends on our willingness to reach across generational lines, to step outside our comfort zones, and to help ensure ours is not just a thriving community for this generation, but for many generations to come.

Bright blessings, Sharon

Musical Performance for Children and Youth!

As you may already know, this year's Chalice Cabaret has been postponed. One of the great joys of the Cabaret experience has been the opportunity to watch our young people discover and nurture their creative and artistic gifts. To that end, we are excited to announce that on October 3rd and 4th @ 2:00 pm, Chalice will be presenting performances of the musical Tweet! which will be directed by our very own Lauren Schulz! Our hope is that ALL of the roles, both onstage and behind-the-scenes, will be filled by our children and youth! Adults will support the youth whenever they need us, but the idea is that the young people will be the driving force of this production from beginning to end!

Auditions will be open to anyone ages 6-18, with auditions taking place on Sunday, July 19th from 1:00-2:30 pm in the Chalice Common Room. More details will be forthcoming via the Tweet! email list.

If you would like to be added to this info list, please send an email to our Music Director Tim McKnight at music@chaliceucongregation.org requesting to be added to the Tweet! email list. Audition information, forms, practice files, and other important information will be made available on Dropbox.

Rehearsals will be on various Saturday and Sunday afternoons in August and September, with performances at 2:00 pm on Saturday, October 3rd and Sunday, October 4th. The performances will be free of charge and open to the public.

Much more information to come!

Family Ministry

Don't avoid extremes, and don't choose any one extreme. Remain available to both the polarities - that is the art, the secret of balancing. ~ Rajneesh (Indian mystic, guru and spiritual teacher)

Balancing... I am pretty good at balancing objects—I excel at Jenga and Blockhead! And I have good body balance—I guess I have a pretty solid core. (Or, maybe it's my wide feet—that has to help.) That's not what I've thought about lately, though, in terms of balancing. When I was hired as your Director of Family Ministries (DFM), Sharon asked if I could stay on as Office Administrator for a few weeks, just until we find a good fit. "Sure!" I answered confidently. We agreed I would do just the most important and pressing tasks in the area of Administrator; my priority would be DFM. Four days later, I felt slightly overwhelmed, a bit confused, and — yes — out of balance. Typically, when people refer to keeping their life "in balance" they mean balancing work and home, or joy and pain. That's not what happened to me, though—the two jobs, although requiring some of the same skills, are very different. I wondered if I could continue two such disparate (and important) job paths. Interestingly, over the next few weeks I came to find my balance. Scheduling specific chunks of time for different areas helped. What is amazing, I almost found my brain "clicking" when re-directed. I found I could "remain available to both polarities." So yes, I guess balance can be learned. However, I confess I am very happy that we have found Brittany, who is certainly turning out to be a top Office Administrator in a very short amount of time! Now I can turn my full attention to this wonderful new job, that of Director of Family Ministries.

To that end, I remind you to come to the "Once Upon a Time" auction event, where our children can teach us the beauty of pretend. Also, mark your calendars for Wednesday, July 15th. We are having a guest, Reverend Roux Malan from the Cape Town (South Africa) Unitarian Church, and will be welcoming him with a good old-fashioned Chalice Potluck! Our two RE groups are making connections. Why don't we adults follow suit and reach out to the adult Cape Town congregation as well? You never know the richness such connections can bring to your life. Rev. Malan's email is [not for public newsletter]. More information on contacting the congregation will become available in the future."

Circle Suppers

You are invited to Circle Supper on July 18 at 6pm. Circle Suppers are monthly dinners in a pot-luck format with usually eight people at a host's home. Dinners are held on the third Saturday of the month at 6pm. The number of dinners each month depends on how many people want to participate that month. This is a great way to get to know each other better and further our sense of community. Newcomers are welcome.

If interested in attending please contact Dani Comer by Wed. July 8.

Welcoming Congregation

We are pleased to be designated a Welcoming Congregation by the Unitarian Universalist Association of Congregations, and as such we honor and value the racial, cultural, economic, religious, physical ability, sexual orientation and gender diversity of our members and visitors, young and old.

Congregational Life

Pathways Team:

Pathways Team prepares the congregation to welcome visitors and accompanies seekers along the paths to belonging.

Pathways team, led by Elizabeth Bukey, Carol Molek, and Rita Hill, continues to work on helping people belong at Chalice. In May, we held an orientation for newcomers where we gave an overview of Chalice's history and vision for the future, explained our structure, and highlighted the many small groups available. We are also working on creating and revising our systems for visitor tracking follow-up and membership. As a relatively new team, formed out of committees which worked on membership, in-reach, and outreach, we continue to work on putting together all the pieces that make up Pathways.

Justice Sunday: Thank You!

Our June Justice Sunday offering went to California Indian Legal Services. Their Escondido Directing Attorney, Mark, writes: "Elizabeth, please thank your congregation for me on behalf of CILS. Your support allows us to continue working for the rights of native peoples. In fact it will help assist incarcerated people at Chino Prison being denied their religious freedoms."

Social Justice Update:

Chalice has two social justice taskforces meeting right now: one focused on Economic Justice and one on Immigrant Justice. We are educating ourselves about the issues and coming up with plans for congregational engagement for fiscal year 2015-2016. Stay tuned for book recommendations, forums, service projects, and opportunities to contact elected officials. A Social Justice Policy task force has also formed and will begin meeting over the summer.

Immigrant Justice:

Last month, Chalice's Immigrant Justice group met with Patricia of the North County Immigration Task Force (NCITF). The North County Immigration Task Force is an ad hoc organization bringing together grassroots leaders, congregations, and organizations like the ACLU to focus on immigrant rights in North County San Diego. Chalice's immigrant justice group also joins representatives of the Unitarian Universalist Refugee and Immigrant Services (UURISE) and the UU Fellowship of San Dieguito on this taskforce. NCITF has been educating the undocumented population about their rights and organizing for local policy changes. When we met with Patricia, we were struck by the courage and persistence of undocumented activists who stand up for their rights in the face of both a broken immigration system and the hostility of many neighbors and elected officials in North County.

Because Chalice is located in Escondido, we are especially focused on learning about how Latinos and immigrants are treated in our city. We have been learning about the troubling history of discrimination and policies that make life harder for undocumented people. In 2012, KPBS reported on Escondido's use of DUI checkpoints as de-facto immigration checkpoints, and wrote that "the city council has enacted ordinances and legislation directly targeting the growing Latino and undocumented-immigrant population." Buzzfeed News ran a story on Escondido, pointing out that though Escondido is a mostly Latino city, it has "made a name for itself as one of the most unfriendly places in the country for undocumented immigrants." Members of the North County Immigration Task Force report being pulled over for no discernible reason and asked for papers, and treated with hostility in public meetings.

In coming months, we hope to understand more fully how anti-immigrant policies are being implemented in our community, and to work with allies on organizing for rights and dignity.

A note from Rev. Sharon:

Unitarian Universalists have been advocating for marriage equality for decades, and on June 26, the U.S. Supreme Court established federal recognition of same-sex marriage. It would be hard to overstate my joy at having the right to marry finally affirmed and protected by our government. When I heard the news, I wept.

This wonderful news came during General Assembly, the annual national gathering of Unitarian Universalists, held this year in Portland. What a joy to celebrate marriage equality with thousands of UUs.

Photo: UUA President Peter Morales draped the General Assembly podium with a rainbow flag and invited same-sex couples to join him on the stage this morning to celebrate the Supreme Court's marriage equality decision. An ecstatic crowd wept, cheered, and then sang "We Are Standing on the Side of Love."

Readers' Theater Group

Our July meeting will be held on Monday, July 27th at 6:45 p.m. in the common room. We will be reading aloud Oscar Wilde's The Importance of Being Earnest, a Trivial Comedy for Serious People.

A satire of Victorian England's social mores, "its high farce and witty dialogue have helped make The Importance of Being Earnest Wilde's most enduringly popular play."

Newcomers and listeners are always welcome to join our gatherings. Please contact Deb Coon [not for public publication] in advance, so that we'll know to expect you.

Chalice Groups

Women's Book Discussion

On July 21 at 7:15 pm, the Chalice Women's Book Club will be discussing "The Storied Life of A.J. Fikry" by Gabrielle Zevin.

J. Fikry's life is not at all what he expected it to be. He lives alone, his bookstore is experiencing the worst sales in its history, and now his prized possession, a rare collection of Poe poems, has been stolen. But when a mysterious package appears at the bookstore, its unexpected arrival gives Fikry the chance to make his life over--and see everything anew.

Our facilitator will be Dani Comer. We meet the third Tuesday of every month at 7:15 PM in the Common Room. Please come and join us for another stimulating and fun evening, discussing the book and all the other topics, ideas and experiences that we share at our meetings.

Our August book is "The Four Seasons: a novel of Vivaldi's Venice" by Laurel Corona. Susan Sklar is the facilitator. Newcomers are welcome, please contact:

Chalice Readers

On July 24th at 7:00 PM at Chalice we will discuss The Ocean at the End of the Lane* by Neil Gaiman

A brilliantly imaginative and poignant fairy tale from the modern master of wonder and terror. A groundbreaking work from a master, the story is told with a rare understanding of all that makes us human, and shows the power of stories to reveal and shelter us from the darkness inside and out. It is a stirring, terrifying, and elegiac fable as delicate as a butterfly's wing and as menacing as a knife in the dark. This bewitching and harrowing tale of mystery and survival, and memory and magic, makes the impossible all too real.

You've got questions? Email them to John Drewe at [not for public newsletter].

Ladies Out to Lunch Bunch

The Ladies Out to Lunch Bunch will meet on Friday, July 17 at the Fish House Vera Cruz in San Marcos. Usual time 11:30. For directions and to RSVP, please contact Cindy Carter at [not for public publication]

We welcome newcomers!

Stitch? Knit? Crochet? Fiber Artists Welcome

The Fiber Arts Group (and My Passion) meets on the 3rd Wednesday of each month at 1 PM. This month, we meet on July 15 in the Common Room at Chalice. Fiber Arts (formerly the Chalice Knitters) is open to all crafters of any type. Do you: knit, crochet, quilt, weave, sew, make cards? The list is actually endless. Please bring your hand work to the meetings and join with like minded individuals for encouragement and wonderful conversation.

For questions, please contact Dianne Decker-Houser at [not for public publication].
